

174 HERITAGE SITES

DECLARED BY WEST BENGAL HERITAGE COMMISSION

DISTRICT WISE ENLISTMENT OF HERITAGE SITES

West Bengal Heritage Commission

FOREWORD

The West Bengal Heritage Commission Act, 2001 was passed by the government of West Bengal to establishment heritage commission for the purpose of identifying buildings, monuments, precincts and sites as built heritage and to adopt measures for their restoration and preservation. Such endeavour of West Bengal was the first in the entire country where a separate commission was formed to look after large number of buildings/monuments which exist beyond the perview of Archaeological Department.

The most important function of the West Bengal Heritage Commission (WBHC) is to prepare an authentic list of heritage building, monument etc. The procedure of heritage enlistment is that the applications are received from different sources viz the owner of the building /district administration/local body/NGOs/local historians and so on. Important applications are short listed and inspections are conducted on heritage building / site by the experts. Inspection reports are then placed to the commission. Decisions are taken for publication of notice in the Bengali and English dailies expressing intension for declaration of heritage. If no objection or complaint is received within one month of publication of the notice, the building is considered as heritage. The commission may publish another notification in newspapers finally.

The commission also provides a prescribed index form to collect information about the proposed heritage building in details which may be attached at the time of submission of application for seeking heritage status.

The process is a continuous one. The list is supplemented as and when new heritage structure is considered by the commission. Presently the heritage list of WBHC contains 174 sites in the entire state of West Bengal.

The enlistment of building and sites as heritage does not mean acquiring or procuring the structure by the commission. The ownership remains with the existing owner. However, the building with heritage status cannot be demolished. Its renovation, alteration etc should be guided by the commission. The main objective for enlisting heritage building is to preserve our history through built heritage. Also, it contributes in maintaining the balance for preserving environment.
